STUDENT, PARENT, AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

Angelica Delgado is a shining example of the quality of young people in our community. An alumna of Miami-Dade County Public Schools, this promising athlete is poised to compete at the most renowned and celebrated athletic event in the world, the Olympic Games.

Ms. Delgado began practicing judo at the age of nine under the guidance of her father and coach, Miguel Delgado. Since then, she has garnered countless successes. In 2010, she earned a gold medal in the USA Judo Senior National Championships, bronze medals in both the El Salvador World Cup and the U. S. Open, and finished in fifth place in the Venezuela World Cup. In 2009, she won numerous medals, including two gold medals at the USA Judo National Junior Olympic Championships and the Midwestern Championships. She trains in the Ki-Itsu-Sai National Training Center in Coral Springs, Florida under the direction of her coaches, German Velasco and Jhonny Prado. Recently, she took home a bronze medal from her victory in her hometown at World Cup Miami, the largest international judo competition with more than 50 countries competing to qualify for the 2012 Olympic Games in London. As a rising judo star, she has just returned from France after competing in the 2011 Paris World Championship with Team USA.

Not only is Ms. Delgado an accomplished athlete but she is academically gifted as well. She graduated in 2009 from John A. Ferguson Senior High School with a GPA of 4.5 and she currently attends Florida International University where she majors in nursing.

Ms. Delgado's family has supported her unconditionally and shares her dream of Olympic glory. Angelica Delgado is to be acknowledged as an exceptional student model of Miami-Dade County Public Schools and for representing the United States at the Olympic Games in 2012.

ACTION PROPOSED BY DR. MARTA PÉREZ:
